

Professional Development

Investing in individuals and organisations to build knowledge and skills that support disaster resilience.

AIDR offers regular professional development opportunities to share knowledge and build national capability. Our research-based learning events are tailored for people working and volunteering in disaster resilience across a range of sectors. Face-to-face and online options include:

Meteorology for disaster managers

Take your understanding of weather and natural hazards to the next level.

Facilitating successful debriefs

Develop skills for effective debriefing using evidence-based tools, techniques and strategies.

Decision making under pressure

Learn how to make better decisions under conditions of high pressure, stress and uncertainty.

Building multi-functional team effectiveness

Build your capability to launch and manage high-functioning teams operating in emergencies.

Lessons Management Forum

Share good practice, learnings and innovations in lessons management. Co-hosted with AFAC.

Leadership in disaster, crisis and adversity

Master the leadership skills required to manage complex challenges.

Australian Disaster Resilience Conference

The Australian Disaster Resilience Conference is the nation's premier event focused on contemporary disaster resilience practice and research.

The conference brings together a diverse and passionate crowd from a range of sectors to share knowledge and build connections for a disaster resilient Australia.
